Sea breezes on the nose in that classic Islay manner, with crème brûlée and butter joining in on the palate and carrying the whole ensemble into the long, creamy textured finish

WHISKIES

Islay continued

Islay whiskies are the strongest flavoured of all Scotch whiskies. They are renowned for their strong peaty smokiness which comes from the peat fuel which they use for malting the barley

Caol Ila 12 yo 43.0% £6.00

Rich, spicy, peaty

Fresh, herbal. Rubbed peppermint leaves, stemmy, damp grass, smoky. Oily, cigar leaves, smoked ham, hickory. Good body, oily, tar, elegant smoke. Long, peppery, spicy warmth, smoked finish

Caol Ila 18 yo 43.0% £9.60

Rich, spicy, complex

A wonderfully balanced expression from the core Caol Ila range, this 18 year old is malty and thick with notes of Caol Ila smoke and phenols, a lovely Islay single malt without extreme levels of peat

Kilchoman Sanaig 46.0% £6.20

Fruity, spicy, peaty

Nose of pineapple chunks and white grapes. Hints of fresh coffee carry the earthy, subtly spicy peat. Palate of more light fruits with dark chocolate raisins and a whisper of red berries

Lagavulin 16 yo 43.0% £6.60

Full, concentrated, peaty

A much sought-after single malt with the massive peat-smoke that's typical of southern Islay - but also offering richness and a dryness that turns it into a truly interesting tippie

Laphroaig 10 yo 40.0% £4.80

Smokey, salty, peaty

Really peaty and iodine rich. This has to be one of Scotland's most characterful drams. Laphroaig are known for their medicinal malts, and the classic 10 year old is no exception

Laphroaig Quarter Cask 48.0% £5.40

Smokey, salty, peaty

Released in 2004, this bottling was aged for around five years before being finished in a quarter cask for several months, the size of the cask is quite small, thus does not require such a long maturation

Campbeltown

Lying towards the end of the Mull of Kintyre peninsula on the West Coast. Today there are only three distilleries producing whisky here, but once there were over 30. Very distinctive malts, tending to be full bodied, renowned for their depth of flavour and also for their slightly salty finish. Peat adds a hint of flavour similar to Islay malt

Glen Scotia Double Cask 46.0% £5.40

Sweetish, fruity, oakey

Glen Scotia Double Cask starts its life in first-fill bourbon barrels, before being finished in Pedro-Ximenez-sherry casks. Notes of spicy fruit and vanilla.

Springbank 15 yo 46.0% £7.80

Rich, fruity, oakey

A 15 year old from the Springbank distillery with plenty of sherry notes and spice, dried fruits and nuts
